

The Pogon Tales: Robot Adventures™

THE Smelly Secret of Powdles

Michal Gow

Illustrated by Ulises Costilla

Ponderoids are very intelligent robots who live far away from the other Pogons on their very own Vacuum planet.

A little Ponderoid boy named Tinsel was sleeping.

Like many other little Pogons in the universe, he was dreaming about having his own powdle puppy.

But when he asked his parents for a puppy, they told him that a puppy
requires too much work:

A puppy needs to be groomed.

A puppy wants to play all the time.

And a puppy needs his walks to do a poo.

